We've spent a lot of time, over the past year or more, telling you about our schools' facilities needs and about bond referendum.

As stated before the election, we pledge to keep you continually updated on the plans, progress, and timelines of the many projects over the next few years; projects that will substantially improve our facilities and be a source of great pride.

Updates, in a variety of formats and media, will begin immediately.

The support of the community is greatly appreciated. Our kids and our communities are the real winners. Working hand-in-hand with the community, our future is bright.
